

Professor Alun Davies

United Kingdom

Professor Alun H Davies MA, DM, DSc, FRCS, FHEA, FEBVS, FACPh. He is Professor of Vascular Surgery at Imperial College London and a Consultant Surgeon whose NHS practice is based at Charing Cross and St Mary's Hospital, London. Professor Davies trained in Cambridge, Oxford, Plymouth, Boston (USA) and Bristol, prior to taking up a Consultant appointment in Charing Cross in 1994. Professor Davies is regarded as a world expert in the management of vascular (arterial/venous) disorder. He is the Editor in Chief of Phlebology, past President of the European Venous Forum & The Venous Forum at The Royal Society of Medicine. He is a Member of the American Venous Forum, the American College of Phlebology, Vascular Surgical Society of Great Britain and Ireland, European Society of Vascular Surgery. He has been a Hunterian Professor at the RCS, England and is an Emeritus Fellow of the Australasian College of Phlebology. He was the Chairman of the Varicose Vein Guideline Group for the NICE (National Institute of Clinical Excellence) and a member of the Quality Standards Group. He is a member of the NICE guidelines group on AAA. He is a member of the national CRG for vascular surgery and a member of the National Specialized Services Commissioning Panel. He is a director of the European College of Phlebology and has co-chaired the ESVS guidelines group on the management of varicose veins. He has also written extensively on many aspects of vascular disease, writing over 470 peer reviewed manuscripts and runs a large research group. Clinically he runs a tertiary vascular surgical practice and is the Clinical Director of Imperial Private Health, the 2nd largest PPU in the NHS.